

CRITICAL NOTES

Totentanz

Sources

“A”: the first edition, published in 1865: “Hans von Bülow / gewidmet. / TODTENTANZ. / (Danse macabre.) / PARAPHRASE / über / “DIES IRAE” / für / Piano und Orchester / von / FR. LISZT. / ... / Arrangement für Pianoforte allein ... / LEIPZIG, C. F. SIEGEL.” Plate No. 2815.

“B”: the autograph manuscript (ML96, L58, Case in The Library of Congress, Washington.) The manuscript consists of seven pages of music paper (upright format) with thirty-two staves per page and letters (a-g) instead of page numbers. The title on page a, above the first line of music, is “Todten Tanz” für Piano-forte allein. In the music there are many abbreviations as Liszt did not fully write out the bars which are the same in the piano part of the version for orchestra and piano; he marked these bars to be taken from that version by using the page numbers of the first edition of the score (see “C”). The bars in question are: bars 11, 12 and 15 except for the first quarter, and then bars 41-50, 59-66, 71-82, 124-157, 167-218, 251-270, 305-311, 319-324, 341-350, 393-465, 532-583, and 590-600. Bars 83-90 and 91-95 were also to be used in part. For these bars the piano part in the first edition of the orchestral score has been used as the chief source for this present edition.

“C”: the bars of the piano part as listed in “B” from the first edition of the score of the original version for piano and orchestra. (Siegel, Leipzig. Plate No. 2814. A copy from the Liszt estate, now in the library of the Academy of Music in Budapest, shelf mark 3802.)

“D”: the bars of the piano part as listed in “B” from a copy, corrected by Liszt himself, of the piano and orchestra version. (Goethe and Schiller Archives, Weimar, shelf mark: Ms. H, 10.)

Supplementary Sources

“E”: the bars of the piano part as listed in “B” and agreeing with “C” in an autograph manuscript of the score of the piano and orchestra version belonging to Ester Bonacossa, Marchesa della Valle di Casanova, Milan.

“F”: the bars of the piano part as listed in “B” and agreeing with “C” in a copy, corrected by Liszt himself, of the score of the piano and orchestra version. (The Pierpont Morgan Library, The Robert O. Lehmann Collection, New York.)

It is to be noted that neither “E” nor “F” are in themselves complete: supplementing each other, these two sources contain an earlier version of the work which is not the same as the final version.

In distinguishing between staccato dots and staccatissimo dashes the autograph manuscripts (and Liszt’s own corrections in “D” and “F”) have been given great importance. In this context the supplementary sources have also been used as main sources and changes made on the basis of the supplementary sources have not been listed in the Critical Notes.

Bars 11, 12: at the end of the bar there is a fermata sign above the right hand rest in “A” and “C”. Since there is nothing to justify writing this sign in the right hand only, in bar 12 “F” has been followed, and in bar 11 the fermata has correspondingly been omitted.

Bar 15: in the main sources there is a very short crescendo and diminuendo sign under each of the first two notes in the 16th triplet of the Cadenza. This is a misprint arising from a misreading by the engraver and here it has been corrected to agree with “E”.

In front of the 2nd octave in the right hand of the third semiquaver group from the end of the Cadenza, the naturals have been added.

Bar 20: the sharp has been added before the 5th note in the right hand.

Bars 41-45: in the principal sources the right hand slur goes on to the 2nd minim in bar 43. This slur has been corrected to agree with “E”.

Bar 54: in “A” there is a staccato dot in the left hand. In accordance with the three preceding bars, this has been changed to a staccatissimo sign.

Bar 59: the staccato dots on the 4th and 6th notes in the right hand have been added by analogy with bar 51.

Bar 67, 71: the staccato dots for the lower voice on the 3rd and 4th crotchets in the right hand have been added.

Bars 68, 70: the slur beginning at the minim has been added in both hands to agree with bars 72 and 74.

Bars 75, 82: in “A” and “C” the right hand slurs are extended to the last quarter of the bar. In the present edition the slurring in “F” has been followed.

Bar 78: in “F” and “D” the last two semiquavers in the right hand are a<sup>1</sup>-b flat<sup>1</sup>. In spite of this, “A” and “C” have been followed here (in “B” this bar is not written out) as Liszt might have changed these two notes in the engraver’s manuscript or on the proof-sheets of the score (their whereabouts are unknown).

Bars 80, 81: in the main sources there is a staccato dot on the last note in the right hand. This has been corrected to a staccatissimo sign to agree with the analogous parts of bars 75-79 and 82 and with "D".

Bar 81: the e in the 1st chord in the right hand has been added to agree with "F".

Bar 82: in the main sources the 2nd slur in the left hand extends to the last note. In accordance with the right hand slur and in order to agree with bar 78, the slur is not extended to the last note in this edition.

The staccato dot in the left hand has been added to agree with the right hand.

Bar 85: in the sources the 1st staccato dot in the right hand is not included.

Bar 86: the staccato dot on the 3rd note in the left hand has been corrected to a staccatissimo sign to agree with the preceding bars.

Bars 86, 88, 89: the staccato dot in the right hand has been corrected to a staccatissimo sign to agree with the preceding bars.

Bar 90: in "A" there is a staccato dot on the 6th note in the left hand. This has been altered to a staccatissimo sign by analogy with bars 89 and 90.

Bars 92-95: in "A" there are staccato dots in the right hand. They have been altered to staccatissimo signs here to agree with bars 83-89.

Bar 95: the sources do not include the staccatissimo sign in the left hand.

Bar 103: the star marking the release of the pedal has been added since no pedal is prescribed in the analogous bar 96.

Bar 109: the staccatissimo sign at the 3rd chord in the left hand has been added—or, rather, the staccato dot in "C" has been corrected to a staccatissimo sign—by analogy with bar 102.

Bar 110: the sources do not include the 1st staccatissimo sign in the right hand.

Bar 117: the sources do not include the staccatissimo sign in the left hand.

Bar 121: in "A" there is a staccato dot at the 2nd chord in the right hand. This has been corrected to a staccatissimo sign to agree with the left hand.

Bar 132: in the main sources the 2nd slur in the right hand starts from the 4th note of the top part. To agree with the analogous part of bars 130 and 131, the slur has here been started from the top note of the arpeggio chord.

Bars 167-171: "A" and "C" have staccato dots everywhere. These have been corrected to staccatissimo signs in accordance with the sempre staccato molto prescribed in bar 171 and with "D". This alteration at the 1st note in bar 167 is also justified by the analogy with the bar 175.

Bar 190: only "E" has the accent.

Bar 194: in the main sources the slur extends to the 1st note of the next bar. This has been corrected to agree with "E".

Bar 198: in "A" and "C" there is a staccato dot on the 3rd note. This has been altered to a staccatissimo sign to agree with the preceding bars.

Bar 212: in "E" and "D" there is a flat before the 2nd note in the left hand and the 1st note in the right hand of bar 213. Here "A" and "C" have been followed since Liszt might have corrected these two signs the way it is mentioned at bar 78 in the Critical Notes.

Bar 226: the star marking the release of the pedal has been added because in the analogous section beginning at bar 219 no pedal is prescribed.

Bars 229, 318: the staccato dot in the left hand has been changed to a staccatissimo sign to agree with the right hand.

Bars 301, 303, 305, 312: the staccato dots in the right and left hands have been changed to staccatissimo signs by analogy with bars 314, 316 and 318.

Bar 304: in the sources the 3rd staccatissimo sign in the left hand is missing.

Bar 317: the Ped. marking has been added by analogy with bar 304.

Bar 350: the star marking the release of the pedal has been added to agree with the identical bar 354.

Bar 356: the left hand accent has been added to agree with the right hand.

Bar 381: in the sources there is no left hand slur.

Bar 393: the ff occurred originally in bar 397 and only in "A".

Bar 408: the star marking the release of the pedal has been added by analogy with bars 396, 400 and 404.

Bar 424: in the left hand in the second half of the bar "D" has been followed by analogy with bar 431. "A" and "C" repeat here exactly the notes of bar 422, while "B" here merely refers to "C".

Bars 505-506; 510-511: the staccatissimo signs have been added by analogy with bars 500-501.

Bar 544: there is no Ped. in the sources.

Bar 547: in "A" there is the marking Ped. under the 1st note in the left hand. This is clearly a misprint. Here it is replaced by a star since no pedal is prescribed in the similar section in bars 553-557 and 559-563.

Bar 563: the natural in front of the last note in the left hand has been added.

Bar 565: the star marking the release of the pedal has been added by analogy with bars 553 and 559.

Bar 569: the staccatissimo signs have been added here, instead of the staccato dots in "A", by analogy with bars 575 and 582.

Bar 589: in "A" there is also a b flat<sup>1</sup> in the 1st chord of the right hand. This is clearly a misprint and has been corrected to agree with the identical part in the left hand.

Bar 590: the natural in front of the f in the 14th chord in the right hand has been added.

The natural in front of the 6th chord in the left hand has been added.

In the 5th bar of the Cadenza, marked by dotted bar lines, the 3rd beam of the demisemiquavers has been added because in performance the rhythm of the thematic material should be precise.

The last Ped. marking has been added to agree with the third one preceding it.

Le triomphe funèbre du Tasse

Sources

“A”: the first edition, which appeared in 1878: “Herrn Dr. Leopold Damrosch / Le Triomphe funèbre du Tasse / Epilogue du poème symphonique / “TASSO” / LAMENTO E TRIONFO / pour grand Orchestre / par / F. LISZT. / Transcription pour Piano de l’Auteur. / ... / Leipzig, Breitkopf & Härtel.” Plate No. 14688. The music was printed directly from the plates.

“B”: the autograph manuscript in the Goethe and Schiller Archives, Weimar, Ms. U, 8a. It contains seven upright pages of music manuscript paper with 32 staves. The title in the top margin of page [1] reads Le Triomphe funèbre du Tasse. There are no page numbers. At the end of page [7] the autograph date can be found: 6 November / 66. The manuscript contains many corrections and insertions. The text of the music is the final version and agrees with “A”. A copy in the same Archives, Ms. U, 8b contains one single remark in Liszt’s hand under the title: a copier de nouveau. This copy has not been used as a source for the present edition.

The Italian text of the foreword has been revised on the basis of the following publication:

La vita di Torquato Tasso, scritta dall’abate Pierantonio Serassi, in Roma, nella stamperia Pagliarini, MDCCLXXXV. In this publication the word (Aldobrandini) does not occur (pages 499-500) and the sentence beginning I funerali continues with the word gli.

Bar 23: in “A” there is an f under the semibreve chord in the right hand. This has been considered superfluous and has been omitted.

Bars 33, 185: in “B” the third is also included (d flat, b) in the 4th chord in the right hand. “A” does not have the third in either place so the omission was clearly deliberate and therefore “A” has been followed here.

Bars 33-35, 40, 92-96, 100-101, 104-105, 142, 144-150, 163, 176-181, 185-188, 192: “A” gives staccato dots everywhere instead of staccatissimo signs. “B” has been followed in this edition since at these points Liszt’s handwriting makes a clear distinction between the two signs.

Bar 36: in “A” there is a staccato dot for the 1st note in each hand. They have been altered here to staccatissimo signs by analogy with the 1st quaver in bars 33-35. In “B” there is no sign of any kind.

Bar 40: in “B” there is no sign of any kind on the 1st note in the left hand. To agree with the right hand, a staccatissimo sign has been included here, too, instead of the staccato dot in “A”.

Bar 53: in “B” the 4th note in the left hand is b. The different note in “A” is clearly a correction—the five appearances of the b in bars 52-53 and the repetition of the note in the left hand would detract from the accompanying melody.

Bar 57: in the sources the star marking the release of the pedal is placed after the 3rd crotchet. In this edition the star has been placed below the 4th quaver by analogy with bars 61 and 65.

Bars 57, 63-64: the fingering 4 in the left hand is given only in “B”.

Bars 61, 65: in “A” the slur which begins on the 4th crotchet of the preceding bar is erroneously placed above the right hand quavers. The slurring has been corrected to agree with the positioning in “B”.

Bar 65: in “A” the star marking the release of the pedal is under the 1st crotchet. By analogy with bar 61, “B” has been followed here, where Liszt later deleted the star which was originally under the 1st crotchet and wrote it between the 2nd and 3rd crotchets.

Bar 76: the left hand slur has been added by analogy with bar 80.

Bar 78: the fingering for the lower part in the left hand is erroneously given as 2 in “B” at the 2nd quaver.

Bars 97, 99: in “A” there are dots instead of staccatissimo signs, while in “B” there are no signs at all. The dots have been changed to staccatissimo signs here, too, to agree with the signs in bars 92-107 in “B”.

Bar 103: the bottom flat has been added.

Bars 103, 107: in “A” there are staccato dots on the 1st note in each hand. The left hand dots have been changed to staccatissimo signs to agree with “B”, and the right hand dots have been changed to agree with the left hand.

Bar 111: the left hand slur has been added by analogy with the preceding bars and with the bar 123.

Bars 114, 126: in “B” the 8th and 9th notes in the left hand are identical with the 2nd and 3rd notes of the 2nd and 4th crotchet triplets. The corrections made in analogous places are clearly deliberate and so this edition has followed “A”.

Bar 128: in the sources the 2nd slur in the right hand starts from the 6th note. Here it has been started at the 5th note by analogy with the bar 116.

Bar 137: fingering for the 7th note in the left hand is given only in “B”.

Bar 143: in “A” there is a staccato dot instead of the 2nd staccatissimo sign, and the 1st sign does not appear at all. Here, too, “B” has been followed.

Bar 144: the più in the tempo marking occurs only in “B”.

Bar 150: the 1st staccatissimo sign has been added to agree with the analogous part of the preceding 6 bars.

Bars 156, 184: in “A” there is a staccato dot on the last chord in each hand. “B” includes the sign in the right hand only. Here “B” has been followed and the left hand dot has been changed to a staccatissimo sign to agree with the right hand.

Bar 159: the staccato dot in "A" on the 1st note has been changed to a staccatissimo sign by analogy with the bar 163.

Bar 162: the portato signs in the left hand have been added by analogy with bar 170.

Bars 173, 174, 182, 183: in "A" there is a staccato dot on the 5th chord in each hand. Likewise at the beginning of bar 176. In "B" there are no signs at these points. The dots have been changed to staccatissimo signs to agree with the analogous part of bars 177, 178, 180 and 181.

Bar 179: the accents have been added to agree with the analogous bars 175 and 183.

Bar 189: the staccato dots in the left hand have been added on the 10th—12th notes and also on the first twelve notes in bar 190.

Bar 216: in the sources the marking sempre is included after the una corda. This has been omitted because Liszt uses the sempre only after the 2nd, or the 2nd and 3rd occurrence of the una corda. Here too this situation recurs because in "B" the una corda is included before bar 216 at the beginning of a section which was later deleted.

Zwei Orchestersätze aus dem Oratorium Christus

Source

"A": the first edition, which was published in 1872. "ZWEI / Orchestersätze / aus dem Oratorium / Christus / No. 1. Hirtenspiel. No. 2. Marsch: Die heiligen drei Könige / von / FRANZ LISZT. / ... / J. SCHUBERTH & Co. / LEIPZIG, NEW-YORK." Plate number: No. 1 – 5076; No. 2 – 5077—the two movements were published separately but with the same title page. The copies used as sources come from Liszt's own estate (the library of the Academy of Music, Budapest, shelf marks LH 3585 for No. 1 and LH 3586 for No. 2).

Supplementary Sources

"B": the piano arrangement of the oratorio which was likewise published by Schubert in 1872 (plate No.: 4933), the 4th and 5th movements of which are identical with "A" as far as the music is concerned. "A" was, however, printed from a new engraving which contains many new markings and instructions for performance by Liszt.

"C": the first edition of the score of the oratorio (Schubert, Leipzig, 1872, plate No.: 4934.) Copy from Liszt's estate (the library of the Academy of Music, Budapest, shelf-mark LH 3584/3).

The Latin and German quotations for the 1st piece have been revised on the basis of the following publications:

Vulgata, editio Vaticana.

Die Bibel oder die ganze Heilige Schrift des Alten u. Neuen Testaments nach der deutschen Übersetzung D. Martin Luthers. Privileg. Württemb. Bibelanstalt, Stuttgart, 1941.

Hirtengesang an der Krippe

Bars 10, 21, 102: the tempo marking has been given to agree with "C". In "A" and "B" other instructions are given along with the tempo marking, thus making it uncertain at what point it is intended to begin.

Bar 51: the fingering for the 2nd note in the right hand has been added to agree with the identical bar 147.

Bars 51, 147, 153: in the source the tie in the bottom part of the right hand begins erroneously at the 2nd note in the top part. The tie has been corrected to agree with the identical bar 57 and bars 360 and 367.

Bar 52: in the source the right hand slur lasts as far as the last note in the bar. The slur has been corrected to agree with the identical bar 58, and by analogy with bars 148, 154, 361 and 367.

The fingering for the grace-note has been added by analogy with bar 361.

Bar 54: in the source the right hand slur extends to the 1st note of the next bar. This has been corrected by analogy with bars 150 and 363.

The slur in the left hand has been added by analogy with bars 59-61.

Bars 57, 147, 153, 366: in the source the tie in the bottom part of the right hand begins erroneously at the 2nd note of the top part. This has been corrected by analogy with the bar 360.

Bar 59: in the source there is a dot after the 3rd note in the bottom part of right hand. Since no dot is given in the analogous bars 155 and 368 or in bars 53, 149 and 362, it has been omitted here, too.

Bar 60: the right hand slurs have been combined by analogy with bars 156 and 369.

Bars 68-69: in the source the right hand slur extends from the 3rd note of bar 68 to the last note of bar 69. This has been changed to agree with the identical bars 164-165 and 377-378.

Bar 77: the 3rd arpeggio sign has been added to agree with "B".

Bars 84, 393: the Ped. marking has been added to agree with the identical bar 180.

Bar 88: the right hand slur has been added by analogy with bars 184 and 397.

Bar 93: the star marking the release of the pedal has been added to correspond with bars 189 and 402.

Bars 93-100: in the source there are dots after all the crotchets in both hands both here and in the first half of bar 101. These are superfluous and have been deleted.

Bar 102: the Ped. marking has been added by analogy with bars 198 and 411.

Bar 104: in the sources the 1st note in the bottom part of the right hand is a dotted crotchet. It has been changed to a quaver to agree with the identical bars 200 and 413.

Bars 110-114: here the teneramente takes the place of the tenuto signs in the identical bars 206-210.

Bar 124: in the source the left hand slur extends to the 4th note. This has been corrected by analogy with bars 132 and 144.

Bar 145: in the source there is no rest at the 5th quaver in the right hand.

The dynamics have been added by analogy with bars 49 and 358.

Bars 145, 358: the right hand slur has been added by analogy with bar 49.

Bar 147: the 1st slur in the right hand has been extended to agree with the analogous bar 51 and the identical bar 360.

Bars 147, 360: in the source the 2nd slur in the right hand begins at the 3rd note. Here it has been started at the 4th note by analogy with bars 51, 57, 153 and 366.

Bar 148: in the source there is an erroneous 5 as fingering above the 1st crotchet in the top part of the right hand. This has been corrected to a 4 to agree with the identical bar 361 and the 5 has been placed above the grace-note.

Bar 149: the pedal markings have been added to agree with the identical bar 362.

Bars 149, 155, 362: the slur is suggested to agree with the identical bar 368.

Bar 151: in the source the right hand slur goes on to the last note of the bar. The slur has been corrected by analogy with the bar 55.

Bar 152: the slur beginning at the last note in the right hand has been added to agree with "B" by analogy with bars 56 and 366.

Bar 155: the pedalling has been added to agree with the identical bar 368.

Bar 156: in the lower part of the right hand the lengthening dot for the 2nd note has been added to agree with analogous bars 54 and 60 and identical bars 150, 363 and 369.

Bar 165: the fingering for the first two notes in the lower part of the right hand has been added to agree with the identical bar 378.

Bars 166, 379: in the source the a tempo begins at the 3rd and 2nd quavers, respectively. Its position has been altered by analogy with the bar 70.

Bars 179, 392: the portato and the Ped. have been added to agree with the identical bar 83.

Bar 189: in the source the p grazioso is at the beginning of the bar. To agree with the identical bar 402 the marking has been placed at the 4th quaver here.

In this bar the source erroneously gives two stars to mark the release of the pedal. To agree with the identical bar 402, the star under the 2nd quaver has been retained and the other, under the 5th note, deleted.

Bar 197: in the source there is a staccato dot on the 4th note in the right hand. This has been deleted to agree with the identical bar 410 since the crotchets and dotted crotchets have no staccato dots at any point in bars 193-197 and 406-410 except on this note.

Bar 199: in the sources the 1st note in the bottom part of the right hand is a crotchet. It has been changed to a quaver to agree with the identical bars 103 and 412.

Bar 205: both fingerings for the 4th note in the right hand have been included to agree with the identical bars 109 and 418.

Bar 206: both fingerings for the 1st note in the right hand have been added to agree with the identical bar 110.

In the sources the left hand slur is erroneously extended to the 1st note of the next bar.

Bar 207: in the sources there is no tie from the 2nd note in the top part in the left hand to the end of the bar.

The tenuto sign for the 2nd note in the left hand has been added to agree with the analogous part of bar 199 and with the right hand.

Bars 207-210, 420, 423: the pedalling has been added to agree with the identical bars 111-114.

Bar 209: the tenuto sign in the left hand has been added to agree with the analogous part of bar 201 and with the right hand.

Bars 214-215: the right hand slur has been added to agree with the left hand, the identical bars 427-428, and with "B".

Bars 218-220: the slurs have been added to agree with the identical bars 430-432.

Bar 233: the staccato dots in the right hand have been added in accordance with the left hand.

Bar 246: in the source there are no brackets at the time signature.

Bar 268: the dot for the 3rd note in the top part in the right hand has been added by analogy with bar 264.

Bars 270, 295, 349, 351, 353: the source gives the marca-to signs only once, between the two staves.

Bar 278: the first rest in the right hand has been added by analogy with bars 282, 286 and 290.

Bar 286: the right hand accent has been added by analogy with bars 278, 282 and 290.

Bar 292: the dot for the minim has been added to agree with "B".

Bar 295: in the source there is a staccato dot for the 7th note in the left hand. This has been omitted to agree with the right hand and the analogous bar 293.

Bar 296: in the source the right hand slur ends on the 4th quaver, i.e. the 5th note. The slur has been extended to the 6th note to agree with the left hand and with the virtually identical bar 294.

Bar 304: the left hand slur occurs only in "B".

Bar 307: the star marking the release of the pedal has been added by analogy with bar 312.

Bar 308: the upper note of the left hand sixth at the 4th crotchet occurs only in "B".

Bar 320: both rests in the top part in the left hand have been added.

Bar 325: the arpeggio sign occurs only in "B".

Bars 330, 331, 335, 336, 437-440, 445-448, 453-456, 461-464: the short slurs have not been altered although the slurring in the analogous parts of bar 277 and the following bars is not the same. With this slight change in slurring Liszt prescribes a gentler way of playing.

Bar 333: in the source the right hand slur is drawn above the top part and goes on to the 4th note of it. The correction is justified by the slurring in bar 328.

Bar 334: the 2nd arpeggio sign in the right hand occurs in "B" only.

Bar 337: in the source the slur beginning on the 7th note in the right hand goes as far as the 12th note. It has been extended here by analogy with bars 327-328 and 332-333.

Drei Stücke aus der Legende der heiligen Elisabeth

Source

"A": the first edition, which appeared in 1872: "Drei Stücke / aus der Legende / DER / HEILIGEN ELISABETH / VON / Franz Liszt. / 1. Orchester-Einleitung. 2. Marsch der Kreuzritter. / 3. Interludium. / Pianoforte-Arrangement / vom / COMPOSITEN. / LEIPZIG, BEI C. F. KAHNT." The individual pieces were published in separate volumes with identical title pages. Plate numbers: 1 and 3 — 1156; 2 — 1239. Nos. 1 and 3 were printed from the plates of the piano reduction of the oratorio which appeared in 1867, with no alterations whatsoever concerning title, music or pagination. The second piece was printed from new plates as its music is not identical with the piano reduction of the oratorio. The copies used as sources for Nos. 1 and 3 come originally from Liszt's estate (the library of the Academy of Music in Budapest: shelf-mark LH 3599 and LH 3600).

Bar 74: the right hand slur has been added to agree with "B".

In the sources the legato begins under the 2nd note in the left hand.

Bars 80, 84: the left hand rests have been added.

Bars 81, 85: in "A" there is Ped. at the beginning of the bar. This has been omitted to agree with "B".

Bars 90, 92: the star marking the release of the pedal has been added to agree with "B".

Bar 91: the flat before the 10th note in the right hand and the Ped. have been added to agree with "B".

Bar 25: the stacc. sempre was originally in bar 23. In "A" there is a staccato dot on the 1st note in the right hand and every note in the left hand. These dots become superfluous after the stacc. sempre and so, in accordance with "B", all have been deleted.

Bar 30: the accent has been added by analogy with bar 38 and to agree with "B".

Bar 39: "B" presents two different ways of staccato markings throughout the piece: dots and dashes. The latter is used when dynamic heightening and "sharper" playing is necessary. In "A" this distinction is not made and only dots are given. This was clearly not Liszt's intention but merely a simplification on the part of the engraver. This seemed to detract from the music and so all the staccatissimo dashes in "B" have been included.

Bar 89: in "A" the middle note of the 2nd chord in the right hand slipped up by a third.

Bar 111: in "A" the top slur in the left hand leads to the 3rd note. Since there is a separate slur for the lower part, the top slur has been shortened to agree with the identical bar 189.

Bar 127: in the sources the left hand slur finishes at the 1st note of the bar. This has been corrected by analogy with bar 205.

Bar 128: the left hand slur has been added to agree with the identical bar 206.

Bars 136-142: the stars marking the release of the pedal are given only in "B".

The left hand accent has been added to agree with "B" and the slur to agree with the analogous bar 260.

3. Interludium

In "A" the title is: "No.6. Interludium."

Staccato dots which occur in "B" only are given as follows: bar 105, left hand, 2nd-5th notes; bars 106-108, left hand, all dots; bar 115, right hand, 1st note; bar 198, right hand, 4th and 5th notes; bars 238-240, 254-257, left hand, 4th note; bars 241, 243-246, bar 252, bars 258-262, left hand, 1st and 4th notes; bars 268, 270, 277, right hand, 2nd note; bars 269, 271, right hand, all dots; bar 271, left hand, both dots.

These Ped. markings occur only in "B": bars 9, 10, 14, 15, 95, 160, 162, 166, 168, 170, 174.

Stars marking the release of the pedal have been added to agree with "B" as follows: bars 13, 14, 94, 160, 162, 166, 168, 170, 174.

Bar 14: the right hand slur spans the first three notes in the sources. The correction made here is justified by the analogous parts of bars 5, 9, 13 and 15.

The portato slur starting under the 4th note in the left hand and the staccato dot under the end of the slur have been added.

Bar 20: the 2nd accents in both hands have been added to agree with "B".

Bar 122: the upper tie in the left hand is missing in the sources.

Bar 146: part of the left hand slur (between the 1st note and the bar line) is missing in the sources.

Bar 161: the fingering has been added to agree with the identical bar 165.

*Aus der Ungarischen Krönungsmesse
Benedictus, Offertorium*

Sources

‘A’: the first edition, published in 1871: ‘Aus der / Ungarischen Krönungs Messe / Benedictus Offertorium / von / Franz Liszt. / ... / für Pianoforte zu 2 Händen. / ... / J. SCHUBERTH & Co. LEIPZIG, NEW YORK’ Plate numbers: 4840, and 4842. The copies used for the present edition originate from Liszt’s own estate (the library of the Academy of Music in Budapest, shelf-mark LH 3665 and LH 3670).

‘B’: the copy of the Benedictus with Liszt’s corrections, which served as the engraver’s manuscript for ‘A’ (Goethe and Schiller Archives, Weimar, shelf-mark: Ms. U, 25). It consists of 6 pages of music, numbered 2-7 by Liszt himself. The music manuscript paper (horizontal format) has 12 staves per page. The plate number (4840) is printed on page [1] and there are figures in the music showing the engraver’s divisions of the music.

‘C’: the autograph of the Benedictus, Music Division of the National Széchényi Library, Budapest, shelf-mark Ms. mus. 276. It consists of two folios of manuscript paper (upright format) with 32 staves per page. The measurements are 33.5 × 24.5 cm. The music is written on pages [1-3], while page [4] is blank. The title on page [1] is Benedictus; next to the title on the right hand side one finds the inscription FLiszt. Liszt used brown ink for the music and orange pencil for the corrections.

‘D’: a copy of the Offertorium with Liszt’s own corrections, which served as the engraver’s manuscript for ‘A’, Goethe and Schiller Archives in Weimar, shelf-mark Ms. U, 26a. There are five pages of music, numbered 1-5 by the composer. The music is written on manuscript paper in upright format with 12 staves per page. The title on the first page in the copyist’s handwriting is ‘Offertorium der Krönungsmesse / für Pianoforte’. The plate number 4842 can be found at the bottom of the page; there are notes in the music concerning the engraving.

‘E’: a copy of the Offertorium marked ‘Revision’, clearly a final proof (Goethe and Schiller Archives, Weimar, shelf-mark: Ms. U, 26b) which does not actually contain Liszt’s handwriting but must have arisen in the course of the supervision of Liszt’s corrections.

Markings, mainly concerning pedalling and fingering, included in the first edition (‘A’) but not in the engraver’s manuscript (‘D’), were clearly added by Liszt to an earlier version. The two corrections in an unknown hand (fingering 5 and 3 given above the 3rd note in the right hand in bar 10 instead of 3; and the position of the two figures is exchanged in the fingering for the 2nd note in the left hand in bar 44) were made in the engraving and so the text of the music is identical with that in ‘A’.

Benedictus

Bar 8: fingering for the 4th note has been included to agree with the identical bar 15.

Bar 42: in the sources the portato sign in the right hand spans only the 2nd-4th notes. This has been corrected by analogy with bar 49.

Bar 60: the staccato dots in the right hand have been added by analogy with bar 56.

Bar 71: the staccato dots for the first seven notes in the left hand have been added by analogy with bar 75.

Bars 74, 78: in ‘A’ there is a staccato dot on the last note in each hand, while ‘B’ and ‘C’ have a staccatissimo sign. It was clearly not Liszt’s intention to have all the staccatissimo signs changed to uniform staccato dots.

Bar 75: the right hand rest has been added by analogy with bar 71.

The d sharp in the last two chords of the left hand has been added to agree with ‘C’.

Bar 76: the first of the stars marking the release of the pedal is under the 6th chord in the sources, and the 2nd is under the 12th chord in ‘A’ and ‘B’. Their position has been corrected by analogy with bar 72, and, in the case of the 2nd, to agree with ‘C’, too.

Ave maris stella

Sources

“A”: a copy of the first edition (see “B”), with Liszt’s correction (Goethe and Schiller Archives, Weimar, shelf-mark: Ms. U, 49b).

Apart from corrections, Liszt entered some of the differences in the harmonium version in this copy; he added the remainder (see bars 68-71) on a separate sheet. In the printed copy, he also indicated the points where this addition begins and ends.

“B”: the first edition, which was published in 1871: “AVE MARIS STELLA / VON / FRANZ LISZT. / Transcription / FÜR DAS / Pianoforte / VOM / COM-PONISTEN. / ... / LEIPZIG, VERLAG VON C. F. KAHNT.” Plate number: 1388. A copy from Liszt’s estate (the library of the Academy of Music, Budapest, shelf-mark: LH 3143).

The text of the Latin hymn has been revised on the basis of the Liber usualis, missae et officii (Desclée & Co., Paris, 1947). Liszt did not write any text above bars 23-27, 53-57 and 71-83. These lines have been added since there seems to be no reason for omitting them.

Bars 23, 84: the rests do not appear in the sources.

Bars 67, 73, 77: the star marking the release of the pedal has been added by analogy with bars 69, 71 and 75.

Bar 69: in the sources there is erroneously a short diminuendo sign at the first two notes in the right hand, instead of a marcato sign.

Bar 71: the flat has been added at the last quaver of the harmonium version.

Bar 72: the left hand slur has been added by analogy with bars 68, 70, 74 and 76.

Bars 74, 87: the bass clef is missing in the sources.

Bar 75: the b<sup>1</sup> in the 1st chord of the left hand is erroneously in large type in the sources and belongs to the top part. The notation of the chord has been corrected to agree with the analogous bar 76.

The manuscript consists of ten pages of music paper (upright format) with 20 staves per page. Liszt's handwriting on the title page reads: "Gaudeamus igitur" / Humoreske / (für Pianoforte) / Herrn J. R. Dr Gille / freundschaftlich gewidmet / von F Liszt. A stamp below that says: "Dr GILLE / JENA." In the text of the music some of the engraver's directions concerning the spacing of the music are to be found.

Bar 125: in "B" the 2nd staccato dot in the left hand is above the 2nd note. This error was taken up in "A", too. The articulation has been improved here on the basis of the preceding bars.

Bars 128, 129: the staccato dots on the 6th note in the right hand and on the 7th note in bar 129 have been added by analogy with bars 123, 124, 125 and 127.

Liszt*. The verso of the 1st folio is empty. The music itself begins on the recto of the 2nd folio, the pages are numbered 1-10. There is an insertion pasted in at the bottom of page 7. After page 8 there is an insertion pasted together from 3 pieces and marked 8 Bis. The verso is empty. The autograph contains many deletions, corrections, insertions, pieces pasted in on top. Apart from a few minor alterations the text is the same as that of “A”. At the end of page 10 Liszt notes: Weñ Freund Gobbi dieses verMiskairte Manuskript freundlich behalten will, dankt Ihm dafür aufrichtigst F. Liszt. März. 73 — Pest.

Bar 29: the staccato dot on the 1st note in the left hand has been added to agree with the identical bar 64.

Bars 32, 153, 158: the accent on the 7th note in the left hand has been added to agree with the identical bars 37, 67 and 72.

Bars 33, 38, 159: the slur has been added by analogy with bars 68, 73 and 154.

Bar 35: the Ped. has been added by analogy with bars 30 and 70.

Bar 39: the star marking the release of the pedal has been added by analogy with bar 74.

Bar 40: the Ped. under the first note and the star marking the release of the pedal at the end of the bar have been included to agree with the identical bars 75 and 161.

Bars 40, 75: the slur and left hand fingering have been added to agree with the identical bar 161.

Bar 42: the left hand fingering has been added to agree with the identical bar 77.

Bars 42, 43: the accent on the 1st chord in the right hand has been added by analogy with bar 40. The fact that bar 77 is identical is not a valid criterion here since the markings in bar 75 are repeated in 77 just as those of bar 161 are repeated in 163.

Bar 60: the middle tie in the right hand and the flat before the 3rd note in the left hand are missing in the sources.

Bar 76: the 1st rest in the right hand is erroneously given as a dotted semiquaver in the sources.

Bar 97: the arpeggio sign in the right hand has been added to agree with the identical bar 120.

Bar 99: the arpeggio sign in the left hand has been added to agree with the identical bar 122.

Bar 110: the star marking the release of the pedal at the 4th crotchet has been added by analogy with bar 115.

Bar 117: the staccato dot on the broken chord in the left hand has been added by analogy with bar 112.

Bar 131: the star marking the release of the pedal has been added by analogy with bars 132 and 133.

Bars 147-150: in “A” the Ossia is missing. The Oder text takes the place of the Entweder text, while the present Entweder text, in smaller print, takes the place of the Oder text. Here “B” has been followed with regard to the Ossia and the positioning of the text.

Bar 148: the natural has been added before the 13th octave in the left hand.

Bar 151: the dynamic markings have been added by analogy with bar 30.

Bar 153: the slur on the first three quavers in each hand has been added to agree with the identical bars 67, 72 and 158.

Bars 153, 158: the Ped. under the 1st note and the star marking its release have been added by analogy with bars 32, 37, 67 and 72.

Bars 154, 159: in the sources there is a quaver rest under the 2nd and 3rd notes in the left hand. These have been deleted by analogy with bars 68 and 73.

Bars 156, 157: the staccato dots for the 1st and 3rd notes in the right hand have been added to agree with the identical bars 70 and 71 and the analogous bars 65 and 66.

“A”: the first edition, published in 1876: “GRETCHEN / aus / F. Liszt’s Faust Symphonie / Transcription für Pianoforte vom Componisten / D<sup>r</sup> FRANZ von LISZT. / J. Schuberth & C<sup>o</sup> / Leipzig.” Plate number: 5338. A copy from Liszt’s estate (the library of the Academy of Music, Budapest, shelf-mark: LH 3631).

“B”: a copy with Liszt’s corrections (Goethe and Schiller Archives, Weimar, shelf-mark: M. U, 50) which served as the engraver’s manuscript for “A”. It contains 21 manuscript pages, numbered by the copyist (1-21). On an unnumbered page before the beginning of the music, Liszt wrote: Aus F. Liszt’s “Faust-Symphonie” / “Gretchen” / Transcription für Pianoforte, / von F. Liszt. At the bottom of the page there is in an unknown hand: “3-17 [“A”’s pagination] 15 Pl[atten]. 4 1/2 B[o]g[en] 5338 [“A”’s plate number].” In the text of the music there are numerous corrections, additions and instructions for the engraver by Liszt himself, and also the engraver’s markings concerning the spacing of the music. At the bottom of the 1st page Liszt noted: NB: Aufmerksam und sorgfältig zu stechen: insbesondere die vielen Fingersätze deutlich und richtig stellen. F. Liszt. Liszt added his signature at the end of the piece. Bars 15-27 of the piece are contained in the autograph held by Die Gesellschaft der Musikfreunde in Wien, Archiv-Bibliothek, A 197. This manuscript is merely a quotation of the bars mentioned. This is indicated by the two parallel slanting lines before the start and the etc. at the end. Apart from minor differences the text agrees with the relevant bars in “A” and “B”. This manuscript has not been used here as a source.

Bars 27, 31: in the sources the right hand rests are missing.

Bar 32: the pedalling has been added by analogy with bar 28.

Bars 44, 53, 55, 56, 109, 135, 237: in the sources there is a double bar line at the end of the bar. These have been omitted to agree with bars 163 and 175.

Bar 45: in the sources the equal signs in the footnote are missing.

Bar 46: the tenuto sign in the right hand has been added to agree with the identical bar 293.

Bar 48: the pp has been added to agree with the identical bar 241.

Bar 63: in the sources the arpeggio sign is in the right hand. Its position has been corrected to agree with the identical bar 59.

Bar 64: the rest has been added to agree with the identical bar 60.

Bar 65: the left hand slur has been added to agree with the identical bar 61.

Bar 82: in the footnote text Seite 16 originally appeared instead of Takt 261.

Bars 101, 102: in “B” the A flats in the top part of the right hand were originally tied as in bars 105-106. The tie was later deleted here but it was retained in bars 105-106. In “A” this latter tie, judging from the way it is drawn, could be a later correction. The omission of the tie here and its inclusion in bars 105-106 seems intentional: this is reinforced by the tenuto sign above the 2nd note in the top part in both “A” and “B”.

Bar 113: the mf has been added to agree with the identical bar 111.

Bar 115: the star marking the release of the pedal has been added by analogy with bar 124.

Bar 116: in “A” the 1st Ped. is below the last note of bar 115, and in “B” it is missing altogether. Its position has been corrected by analogy with bar 125.

Bar 121: the 1st star marking the release of the pedal has been added to agree with the identical bar 123.

Bar 123: the right hand accent has been added to agree with the identical bar 121.

Bar 133: the pedalling on the 3rd crotchet has been added by analogy with bar 129.

Bars 163, 253: in the sources the crotchet rest in the right hand at the beginning of the bar is missing. Here it has been added by analogy with bar 251.

Bars 167, 169, 171, 173: in the sources both lengthening dots for the tremolo are missing.

Bar 170: the sharp on the 3rd crotchet is added.

Bars 171, 173: the left hand rests have been added, although the notation is unambiguous, in the interest of greater clarity.

Bar 172: the 2nd star marking the release of the pedal has been added to agree with the identical bar 174.

Bar 188: the time signature has been added in both hands.

Bar 192: the star marking the release of the pedal has been added by analogy with bar 188.

Bar 200: in the sources the 4th rest in the top part of the left hand is missing.

Bar 210: the fingering for the top note in the 2nd and 3rd chords has been included to agree with the identical bar 214.

Bar 211: in the sources the flat before the 5th note in the right hand is missing.

Bar 230: the pedalling has been added to agree with the identical bar 37.

Bar 237: the right hand slur and the star marking the release of the pedal have been added to agree with the identical bar 44.

Bar 238: the accent and the rinforz. have been added to agree with the identical bar 45.

Bars 239, 242: the arpeggio signs in the left hand have been added to agree with the identical bars 46 and 49.

Bar 241: the crotchet rest in the right hand has been added to agree with the identical bar 48.

Bar 282: the upward stem on the f, the 3rd crotchet in the left hand has been added by analogy with bar 280.

“A”: the first edition published in 1876: “Ungarischer / Sturm-Marsch / für das Pianoforte / von / FRANZ LISZT. / Neue Bearbeitung 1876. / BERLIN, / Schlesinger’sche Buch- & Musikhandlung. / WIEN, / Carl Haslinger q<sup>dm</sup> Tobias.” Plate number: S.6980. A copy from Liszt’s estate (the library of the Academy of Music, Budapest, shelf-mark: 3903).

“B”: a copy which served as the engraver’s manuscript for “A” and which contains corrections in Liszt’s own hand (the library of the Academy of Music, Budapest, shelf-mark: 40.543). There are 7 folios. The manuscript paper has upright format with 16 staves per page; it measures 34.8 × 27 cm. Liszt himself wrote in brown ink on the verso of the 1st folio: Titel: Ungarischer Sturm-Marsch / von F. Liszt. / für Pianoforte (2 händig) neu bearbeitet / vom Componisten. / (auf einer zweiten Platte / die Dedication:) / Dem hochgeborenen Grafen / Alexander Teleki / freundschaftlichst gewidmet. Beneath this in an unknown hand in black ink: (Manuscript / Eigentum der Schlesingerschen / Buch & Musikbg. in Berlin) / Rob. Lienau. In the top left corner there is 285/a in an unknown hand while the earlier mark, the number 435 (crossed out) is to be read on a label with a ragged edge. The music itself, written in brownish-black ink, begins on the recto of the 2nd folio. Liszt himself numbered the pages (1-12) in orange pencil, and made corrections with a blue pencil. At the bottom of the first page, in blue pencil, there is a printer’s mark S.6980, “A”’s plate number. In the music the figures in grey pencil indicate the engraver’s division of the material. The pacing of the music corresponds with that in “A”.

Bar 28: the staccato dot in the right hand has been added to agree with the identical bars 44, 84 and 184.

Bar 38: in “A” there is a staccatissimo sign on the 2nd chord in the left hand. This sign occurs only here; merely once in the whole piece. This inconsistency clearly derives from Liszt’s proof—reading which was adhered to precisely by the engraver. The sign has been changed to a staccato dot by analogy with bar 34, and the dot has also been marked in the right hand.

Bar 40: the staccato dots in the bottom part of the right hand have been added to agree with the identical bar 180.

Bar 43: the fingering has been added here and in bar 183 to agree with the identical bar 83.

Bar 46: the fingering has been added to agree with the identical bar 186.

Bar 67: the staccato dots in the left hand have been added to agree with the identical bar 207.

Bar 119: the star marking the release of the pedal has been added to agree with the identical bar 127.

Bar 141: the left hand rest has been added to agree with the identical bar 145.

Bars 149-153: all the rests in the lower stave of the left hand have been added.

Bar 154: the staccato dots in the bottom part of the left hand have been added to agree with the identical bar 150.

Bar 177: the staccato dot on the 1st chord in the right hand has been added to agree with the left hand.

Bar 178: the staccato dot on the 3rd chord has been added in both hands by analogy with bar 174.

Bar 180: the pedalling has been added to agree with the identical bar 24 and analogous bars 40, 20, 36 and 176.

Bar 189: the staccato dot on the 5th note in the right hand has been added to agree with the identical bar 49 and with the left hand.

Bars 199, 203: the crescendo sign has been included here, too, to agree with the identical bars 59 and 63.

Bar 212: the staccato dots in the left hand have been added to agree with the right hand.

Bars 229-230, 233-234, 237-240, 245-246, 249-250, 253-256: in the Ossia all the left hand rests have been added.

Bar 235: in the Ossia the right hand accent has been added to agree with the identical bar 251.

Bar 256: in the Ossia the natural before the 5th note in the right hand is missing in the sources.

“B”: the facsimile edition of the autograph manuscript, held by the Goethe and Schiller Archives, Weimar, Ms. I, 10<sup>6</sup>. According to this edition the original manuscript consisted of two pages of manuscript paper (upright format) with 20 staves per page. In the left margin on page [1] there is the autograph dedication, identical with that in "A". Before bar 10 an unknown hand inserted: "Sturm Marsch". At the bottom of the page, likewise in an unknown hand: "Eigenthum von A. M. Schlesinger in Berlin".

"C": the first edition, which was published in Paris in 1843: "2<sup>e</sup> / Marche Hongroise / POUR / PIANO / dédiée au Comte de Teleky / PAR / F. LISZT. / MAURICE SCHLESINGER." Plate number: M.S. 3823.

"D": the first edition, published in Berlin in 1843. The text of the title page is the same as in "A" without the words "2<sup>te</sup> Auflage". Plate number: as in "A". The music was printed directly from the plates.

Bars 2, 4, 5: the staccato dots in the left hand have been added to agree with the right hand.

Bar 7: the bottom sharp in the 4th chord of the left hand has been added.

Bar 17: the staccato dot for the 4th chord in the left hand has been added to agree with the right hand and with the identical bars 33, 61 and 136.

Bar 25: the staccato dot for the 3rd note in the left hand has been added to agree with the identical bars 41, 69 and 144.

Bars 26-27: in "A", "C" and "D" the 2nd appoggiatura note is a c sharp. Here "B" has been followed because at identical points (bars 10-14, 129-130, 145-146) "B", "A" and "D" all give a c. C is also to be found in the analogous bars of the 2nd version.

Bar 90: fingering is given in "B" only.

Bars 114-119: the quaver rest in the lower part of left hand is missing in the sources.

Bar 118: in "A", "C" and "D" there is a staccato dot on the last note in the left hand, and on the 1st note of the following bar. The way bars 114 and 115 are to be played is precisely shown, and this is valid for the following two bars as well although the performing instructions are not written out a second time. The inclusion of the two dots mentioned in bar 118 is therefore superfluous and confusing and so they have been omitted.

Bar 120: in the sources there is a quaver rest at the 4th quaver in the bottom part of the left hand. Its inclusion is superfluous since it does not appear in the analogous part of the earlier bars.

Bars 121-123: the staccato dot on the 4th quaver in the right hand has been added to agree with the left hand.

Bar 144: in "A", "C" and "D" there is a staccato dot on the 2nd note in the left hand. This has been deleted to agree with the identical bars 25, 41, 69, 156 and 188. Of these "B" gives only bar 25 in full; the rest are indicated by repeat signs only.

Bars 189, 191: the staccato dots on the semiquavers have been added to agree with the identical bars 194 and 196.

Bars 190, 195: the staccato dot on the 4th chord in the right hand has been added to agree with the left hand.

Bar 193: the staccato dots in the left hand have been added to agree with the right hand.

Bar 195: the staccato dots in the left hand have been added to agree with the identical bar 190.

Bars 197, 198: the staccato dots in the right hand have been added by analogy with bars 192, 199 and 200.

Bar 203: in the sources the sharp before the 3rd chord in the right hand is missing.

Bar 205: the accents and the crescendo sign have been added to agree with the identical bar 203.
